Once there was a dangerous dragon. A boy named Mark saw the dragon and went near him. The dragon scared him away. Mark ran all the way home. After that he arrived at home, he went to sleep. The next day Mark went to the doctor. He needed a checkup from the doctor. The doctor said he was fine.

Later in the week, Mark went outside to play. HE SAW THE DRAGON AGAIN and this time MADE FRIENDS WITH HIM! They made friends by the dragon giving a present to the Mark. He was very happy.

Mark and his new friend had some dinner together and then have an ice cream for each of them-self. After dinner, they had to go a dancing class. They had a lot of fun dancing.

After dancing all night, they both went to sleep, snoooooring! They both woke up and their noses were on their feet! Oh, no! But the Dragon and the boy were very lucky. Since the Dragon works in the hospital, he knew how to solve this problem. The boy said, “Thank you!” So now the Mark was feeling better. They did the same stuff as last night.

In the morning, they said “good morning” to each other. For the first time, they went out to breakfast together. After breakfast, the Dragon said that he is going to go to his family’s apartment. So Mark decided to also go to his family’s apartment. They said good-bye and they decided that they will meet tomorrow. They took the subway to their families. They had lunch at their families.

They slept over there. So they all said “Good night.” Mark’s Grandma sleeps with a teddy bear. They all slept together. They went to sleep at 11pm.

Even the Dragon family went to sleep at 11pm. So in the morning the Dragon and Mark went together for bagels. They loved the bagels! They both would love to come again and again to this bagel place together.

So they went back to their homes. The Mark was wondering how he could win money. He was not rich. "I am going to work for this money. Mark earned $50,000!!

Mark gave some money to the dragon. The dragon said, "Thank you." The boy gave him half of it. Now they both were rich.

They didn't see each other for a week, but when school started, they saw each other, Mark and the dragon were very busy. In school they saw each other many times. They played together at recess plenty.

Years later they both went to college and when they graduated, they started to work. The Dragon decided to be a train driver. Mark decided to be a dentist. The dragon drives the #2 express train from Flatbush Avenue to Wakefield 241st Street. This train goes 120 mph. The Dragon is doing a dangerous thing.

The boy is very experienced at his job with surgery.

The boy and the Dragon each got married over the next few years. The Dragon worked in the Bronx, Manhattan and Brooklyn. The boy worked in the Bronx only.

They both still live in Queens. The Dragon had to go to a meeting in Texas for one week. So the Dragon came back to New York City. It was a 4-hour trip. The Dragon went back to work. Sometimes they go out for some wine.

Time went by and both got older and older. They were both the same age. The Dragon worked until he was 52 years old and the boy worked until he was 63 years old. They had to get a lot of medicine, when they turned 71, they met a special magician who turned them back to 47 years old!!!! The magician had real magic!

So they decided to start work again. They each moved to a different house, because they had problems with there house.. But they still lived in Queens. They bumped into each other. Surprise!

So in a few weeks he worked a little bit less, but still very hard. Both came home at 5 pm on Mondays through Fridays.

A patient came to the dentist because he needed surgery He was charged $9,000 because it was a full day's work.

Mark and the Dragon retired. They were getting old again. The Dragon came to Mark for his tooth problem. A week passed and the Dragon died of old age. Mark was very unhappy. But he lived. He always cared about the Dragon.

When he came back there was a robber! He was scared. The robber stole $2,000 but the man called the police and they came and he got the robber. The police guy gave back Mark $2,000 back and the $10,000 reward. The police said thank you for calling me. While the police was there, the robber shot the man dead!

The End
